A PLACE TO CALL HOME

IN A FOREST, EVERY CREATURE HAS A FAVORITE PLACE TO LIVE. HERE ARE SOME COMMON FOREST FRIENDS FROM OREGON. CAN YOU LOCATE WHERE EACH OF THESE ANIMALS WOULD LIVE IN THE FOREST PICTURE ON THE LAST PAGE?

Gray Jay
I like to perch on small trees in the open, where I can see insects and berries. Sometimes I perch above picnic tables looking for scraps.

Chipmunk
I like to climb tall trees and bite off fir cones that contain seeds. The cones fall to the ground far below. I hurry down and fill my cheeks with seeds to store for winter.

Elk
I like a place where I can hide under the trees, but still graze on grasses and small plants in meadows and clearings nearby.

Bat
I like to rest and nest in very large trees.

Deer Mouse
I can live most anywhere, but I like an open area with small trees best.

Osprey
I like to look for fish in the river or lake so I can swoop down from my nest in a tall dead tree and catch the fish with my talons.

Treefrog
I am also known as a Pacific Chorus Frog because I like to croak loudly from the forest floor, hidden among small stumps and shrubs.

Weasel
I like to climb medium-sized trees in search of small rodents for lunch.

Black Bear
I can live anywhere, but my favorite home is where I can get lots of plants, seeds, berries and sap from young trees to eat.

Salamander
I like forests that are moist and very shady.

Beaver
I can cut down trees with my teeth. I use the wood to build dams on a stream and create a pond.

Rainbow Trout
I love to swim in the clean, cold water of the forest stream and find lots of aquatic insect larvae to eat.
